Product Description

The Samsung 46" 46EH5300 Full HD 1080p backlit LED TV gives a vivid viewing experience and a world of new entertainment options. Samsung's Clear Motion Rate gives crystal-clear moving images through a combination of the chipset used, the 100Hz display panel and the advanced LED backlight. Colours are accurate and vibrant thanks to Wide Colour Enhancer Plus technology that improves the quality of any image and uncovers hidden details. Smart Hub lets you discover a new world of social and personalised home entertainment, like Family Story that lets you share special photos, messages and events with loved ones. There's a Kids feature on the 46EH5300 to keep younger ones entertained and educated; you can also exercise and manage your training using Fitness. With access to great content, Samsung Apps, web browsing, Skype and more, this is truly home entertainment for the whole family. Stay in touch with friends and family from the comfort of your home with the free Skype app available from the Samsung App store. With a Skype camera kit sold separately, you can make high-quality widescreen video calls around the world at low rates or even for free. The 46EH5300 has loads of connectivity options for your convenience – plug your USB memory drive into the TV and enjoy movies, photos or music quickly and easily. There are 3 HDMI sockets for your Blu-ray player, games console or other high definition device, along with a headphone socket and inputs for SCART & component leads. AllShare Play is included on this 46" Samsung TV, letting you wirelessly stream movies, photos, music and more from any compatible devices nearby, including PCs. Cloud technology and Samsung web storage means you can even access and share multimedia when you're away from home.
